

CHARACTER COUNTS! Community Vision Worksheet

Use Your Imagination

Imagine our community with regard to character five to ten years from now. Imagine us holding a meeting just like this one.

Five or ten years ago, our community met, reviewed character-related concerns, and took an aggressive approach to turning negative trends into positive ones and maximizing positive attitudes and behaviors. We imagined the community as we wanted it to be in terms of trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship. We made an exciting, compelling, ideal description that would be worth pulling together to work toward.

What was that description?
